The Paths We Walked—1979

Spring Hill High School

Spring Hill, Kansas 66083

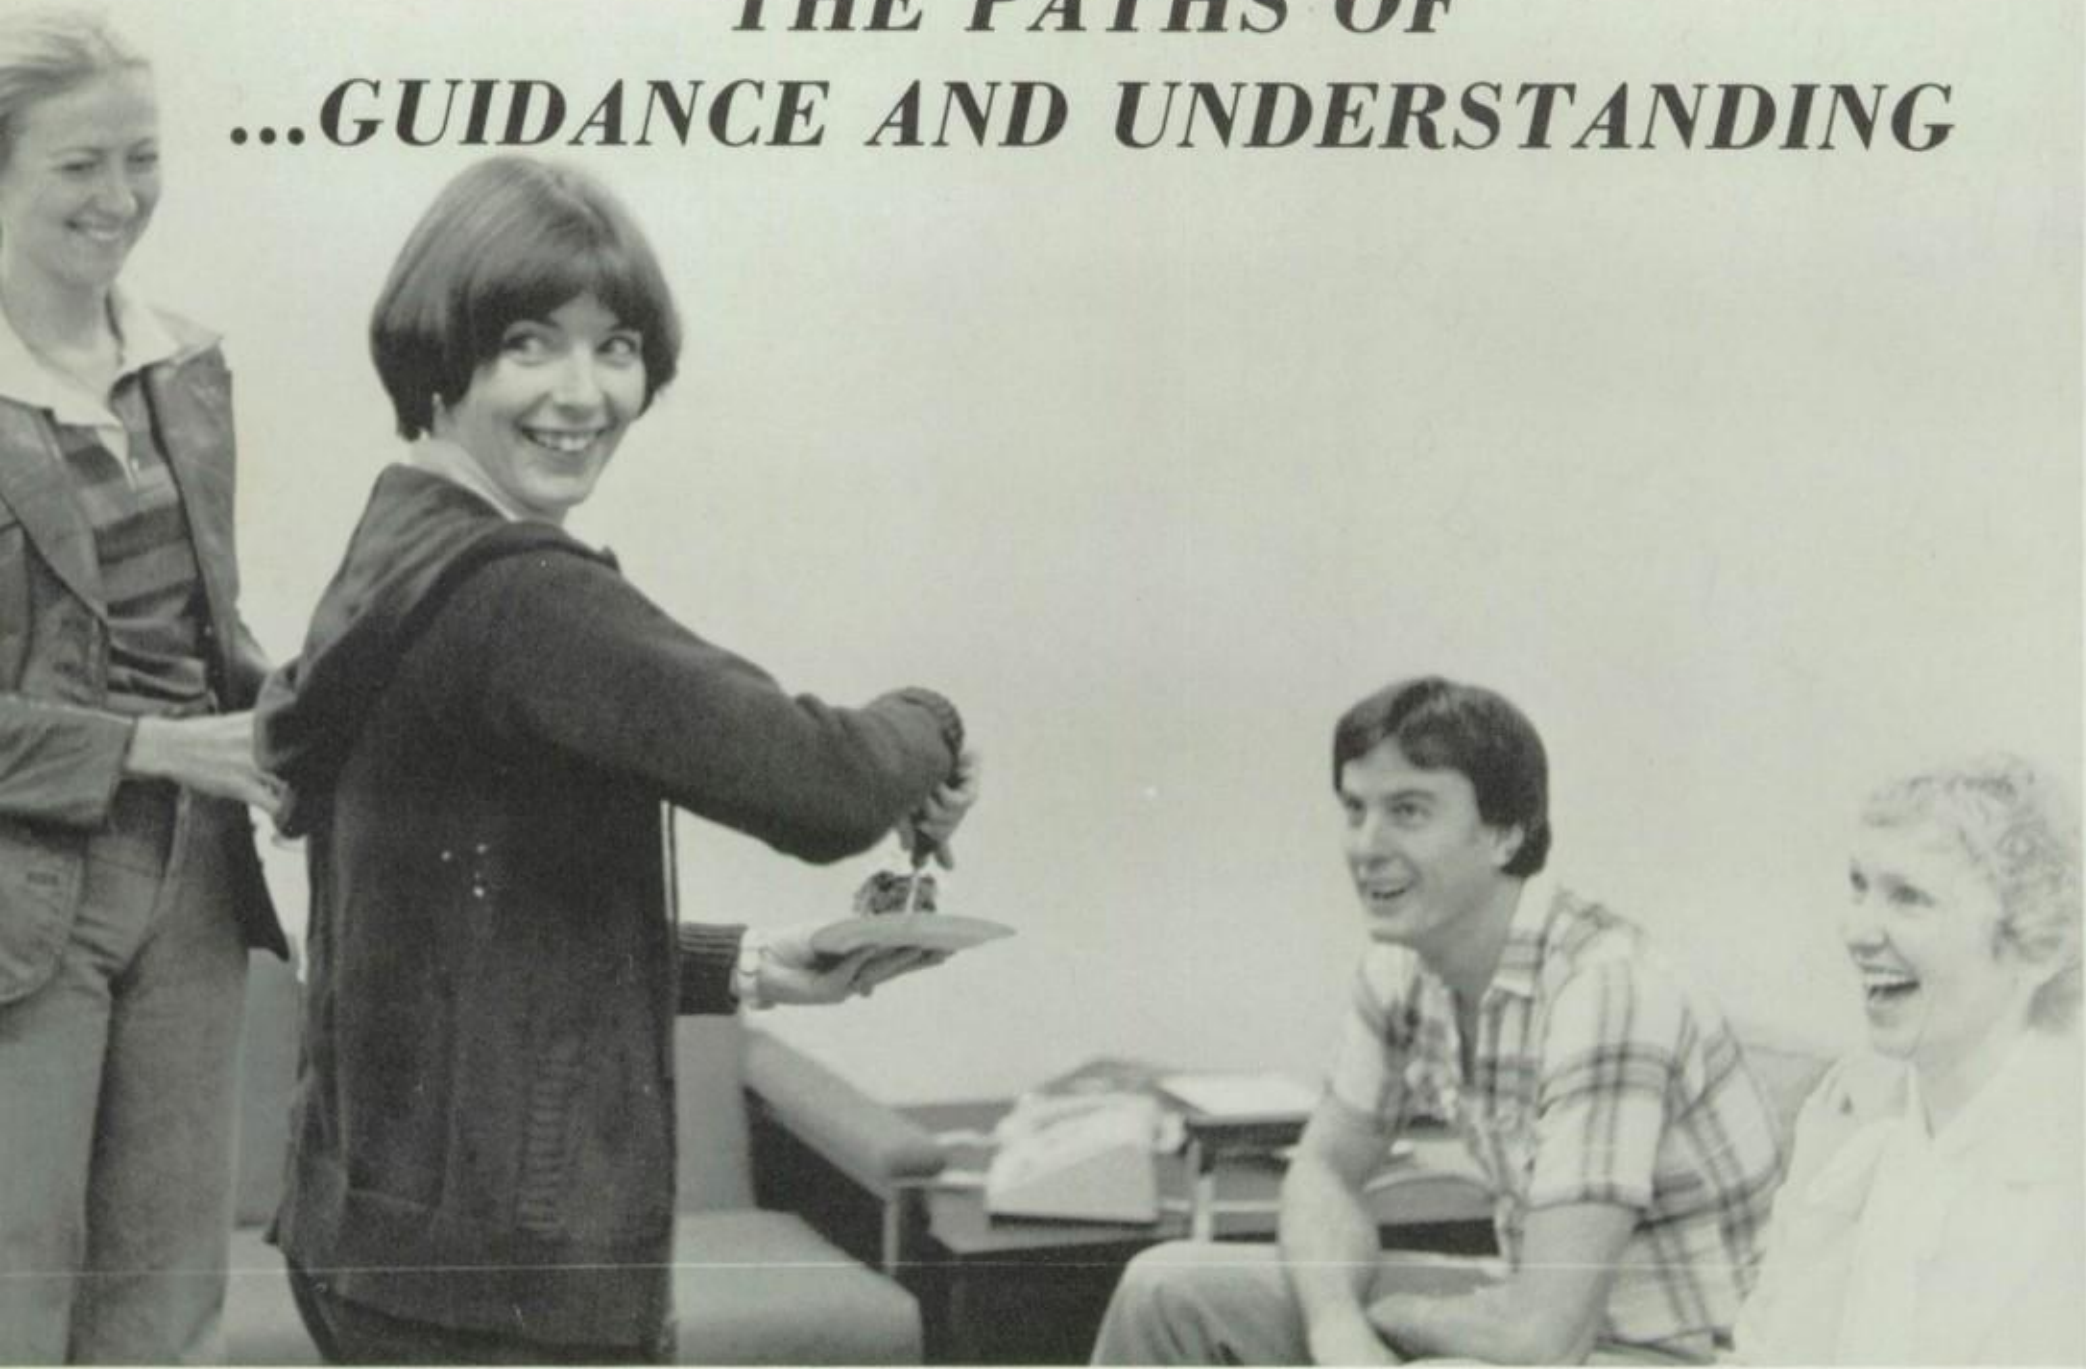

1978-79

Volume 76

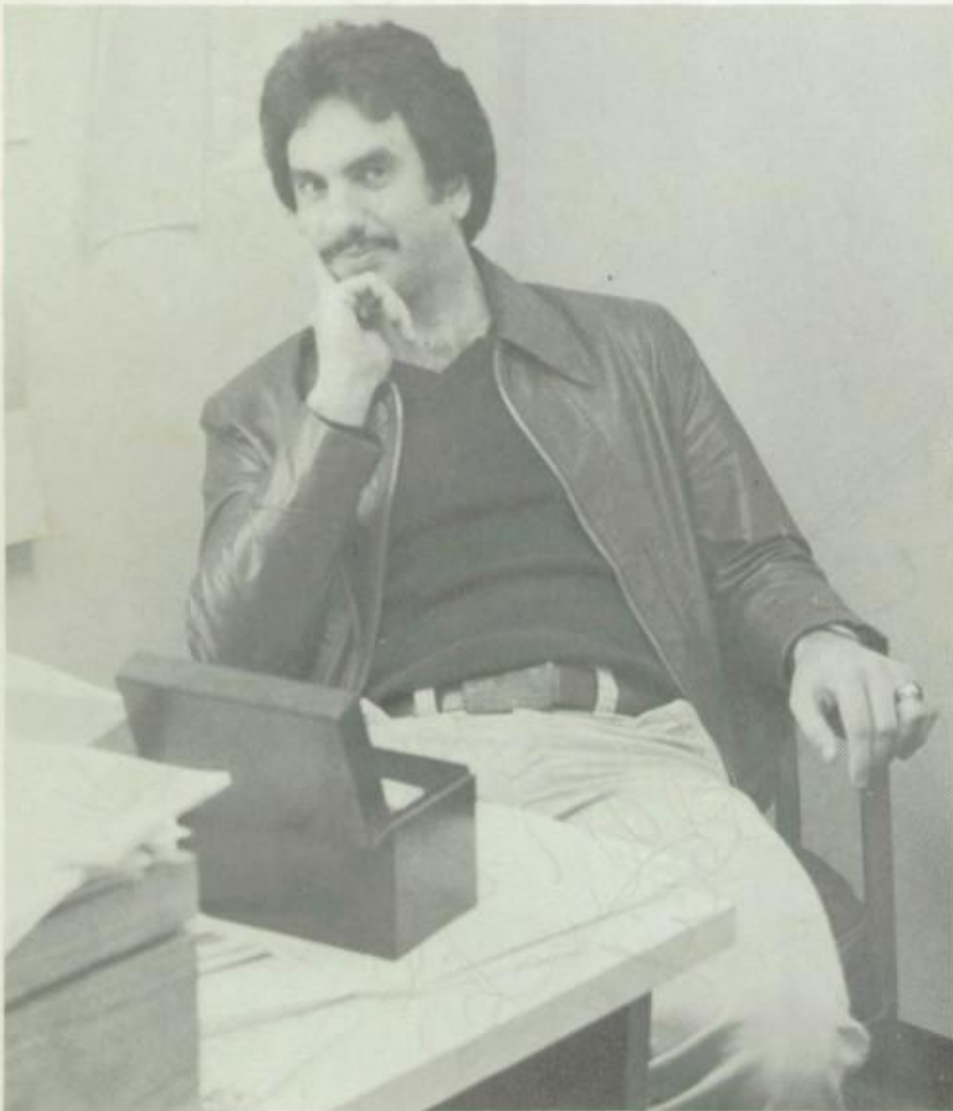

Most every individual at some time in his life chooses specific paths to follow. The paths will be as different and varied as the people who walk them. Whatever your chosen path, as you view this yearbook in the years to come, we hope you will be able to reflect back on the paths you walked in 1979.

Jacqui,
It's been a great summer.
even though we didn't get along
some of the time.
I hope this year in school we get to be better friends. Just don't let people tell you what to do because you're the one that's doing it. You're the one that made any camp. I'll be smiling & a first semester. I'll be here. Keep putting a good luck with Jerry & everything. I'll be
"81".
Love always Brenda

Maack, Fleer Direct paths

Richard Maack and Stephen Fleer served as the guides for students as they moved through a year of various activities. Planning student curriculum, giving personal counseling, and supervising school functions and the daily routines were a part of their active lives.

Staff has variety of duties

Key personnel around school helped make the paths we walked a little smoother. Writing admit slips, answering the phone, keeping accurate records, and maintaining the neat appearance of the building were but a few of the daily activities required of the school staff. Student help came from office aides who worked during every hour and from library aides who assisted Judy Mendon. 1. Secretary

Faculty paves way

Faculty members walked a busy path as they led students through a school year filled with the unexpected. Teachers continued in their quest of improving education, considered schedule changes, tried to keep some continuity in the classrooms as the days of January brought repeated snow storms that forced the cancellation of school for several days, and counseled students as they faced the death of a classmate. Informal "rap" sessions with members of the School Board was an innovative idea used to create better understanding, improve problem areas, and to consider the strengths and weaknesses of the school. 1. Comedy, impersonations, and musical talent were the order of the night as the teachers from the USD No. 230 schools combined their talents Apr. 6 to present their annual Faculty Frolics. The show, sponsored by the Johnson County Teachers Association—Spring Hill, raised $500 for a senior scholarship.

High School teachers presented their version of "The Dating Game" TV show with George Miller having to choose between the charming "bachlorettes" Dick Maack, Ed Rawlings, and Ron Green. Connie Creek and Janice Rawlings were co-chairmen of the talent show.

The "times of our lives" is royalty,

On the cold, autumn evening of Oct. 6 we watched our 1978 Football Homecoming King, Phil Boan, crown the Queen, Debbie Phillips, as their attendants looked on.

The long-awaited evening had begun. The Broncos hosted the Basehor Bobcats for the homecoming game. Fans were disappointed when, in the last few seconds of the game, Spring Hill fell to Basehor, 20-18.

A parade, modified from previous years, and a dance were part of the traditional fall celebration. Earlier in the week students had three spirit days at school. Crazy clothes, painted faces, and cheers in the halls helped get students in the mood for the annual event. Cheerleader sponsor, Jeanne Leonard, led the cheerleaders in a pep assembly of "Snow Green and the Seven Dorks." Counselor Jim Jensen saved the day by portraying Prince Greenwood in the pep skit.

Music students present Broadway VII

The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Audrey Mohn, sang and danced their way along the path of "Highlights of Broadway VII" Nov. 17 and 18. Performing for a full house each night, the Madrigals entertained their audiences with popular Broadway songs of past seasons.

Solos, duets, and ensemble numbers were presented by the 20 Madrigal "men and women." Destiny, a newly-formed girls' ensemble, performed in the musical variety show. Members of their group were Jeri Stepaniak, Kim Argo, Kim Blume, Donna Manning, Nancy Sowers, Leslie DeCrevel, Carrie Harkness, and Sheryl Beers.

The Bronco Stage Band, directed by Jim Sellards and Jean Lighthall, student teacher, opened the show with two medlies. The Madrigals followed with their opening number "There's No Business Like Show Business." Three production numbers included in the musical were from "Fiddler on the Roof," "Li'l Abner," and "Sound of Music." Jana Snell danced a solo to "The Wiz," Michelle Slaughter was narrator, and Marilyn Landers was Technical Director. 1. Madrigals rehearse a scene from "Sound of Music." 2. Gary Foster, students, Combine for concert

Professional musician Gary Foster of Los Angeles, Calif. worked with the band and the Madrigal Singers in a clinic Mar. 28. A concert for the public was given by Foster and the music groups during the evening. Joining Foster for the concert were a professional drummer, piano player, and bass player from the Kansas City area.

Gary Foster is a 1961 graduate of the University of Kansas who has extensive teaching experience on woodwind instruments and the saxophone. He has played with several California symphony orchestras and currently plays with numerous television shows including "Starsky & Hutch", "Barnaby Jones," "Carol Burnett," "Quincy," and "Hawaii Five-O."

The experience of working with professional musicians was a treat for the students as evidenced by the enthusiasm throughout the day and evening. Foster appeared at the school through the courtesy of Funk & Molina Music of Paola. 1. Gary Foster plays his saxophone. 2. Foster and flute provide beautiful solo and accompaniment music. 3. Basketball, queen, spirit trophy highlight Invitational tournament week

The spirit of Bronco fans soared during the week of the Spring Hill Invitational Tournament. The efforts of the students were rewarded as they captured the first Mike Howell Spirit Trophy. The trophy, dedicated to the memory of Mike Howell, will be given annually as long as there is an Invitational Tournament at Spring Hill.

The Broncos took fourth place in the tournament and Louisburg first place as Gwen Yarnell of Eudora was crowned queen. Michelle Arnold represented Spring Hill in the queen contest. Kim Blume and Debbie Bowman directed the student activities of pep bands, drill teams, and the queen contest.

1. Queen candidates are Joan Dillbeck, Michelle Arnold, Kristi Harris, Jana Harrington, Barbara Spies, Gwen Yarnell, Kia Eldred, and Michelle Foust. 2. King and Queen of Courts brings change Along way of traditional homecoming path

The Pep Club had some new ideas for a traditional winter sports activity as they re-named homecoming The King and Queen of Courts. In addition to three senior king and queen candidates, each class selected an attendant and escort for the royalty. Steve Hickman and Tammy Jackson were selected King and Queen by a student body vote. Senior attendants were David Londene, Tracy Rogers, Dan Hodge, and Michelle Arnold. Class attendants were Tony Williams, Connie Morrison, Chuck Argo, Jana Snell, Bryan Hill, and Shelly Masterson.

Three spirit days heightened enthusiasm as students wore zany, comical clothes to prepare for the Court activities. The Broncos hosted Baldwin in the traditional game and added a positive note with a 75-73 win. The week-long activity ended with a disco dance.

Jr.-Sr. prom theme is 'we've got tonight'

"We've got tonight" created special memories as students danced at the Junior-Senior Prom May 12. Early evening dinners, dancing and late-night parties were the culmination of several months' planning by prom chairman Nancy Sowers and her committee of Mary Harralson, Kim Blume, David Landers, Bob Austin, Leroy Jakobe, Debbie Bowman, Leslie DeCrevel, Lori Hanson and Sheryl Beers.

Stone garden walls, old-fashioned street lights and a wooden bridge provided a romantic aura for the fancy-dressed prom crowd. Junior class sponsors Janna Swierczek, Jeff Anderson, Jim Ragsdale and Connie Creek supervised the prom preparation.

Students win awards

Throughout a year there are special awards and honors that come to students for outstanding work. Most often the honors are a result of continuous years of dedication and hard work. Stuco provides services for student body

The Student Council not only served as a liaison between students and administration, but also made an easier road for students to walk by providing several services. A book store was open throughout every day to sell school supplies. Stuco snack and soft drink machines proved the most popular spots in the building. In addition to the regular meetings, Stuco members conducted an anti-litter campaign. Students were encouraged to keep candy wrappers and put their names on them. At the end of each quarter a monetary drawing was held. $25 savings bonds were awarded at each semester. The anti-litter campaign also extended to the smoking lounge.

The debaters competed in 15 tournaments and hosted the Regional competition. Katrina Roche, Craig Bingman, Brent Grauberger and Leroy Mergy made up the Regional team. The team finished third, one point away from second place and a berth in State competition. Coach Ron Green commented, "We had strong, experienced teams that far-ed well. The highlight of our season, and at the same time, a disappointment, was missing a chance to go to State by one speaking point." 3. Leroy Mergy debates at Regional. 4. Library sets New horizons

"Foreign Encounters . . . getting to know your world" was the theme of the annual Library Week observance. Judy Mendon, librarian, planned an educational week of speakers, films, and demonstrations which opened up new worlds for the students. Cultures from around the world were topics for discussion throughout the week.

1. J. Mendon hangs Japanese kite display. 2. Tim Bonhart, JCCC, has a captive audience. 3. Pinky Kase, JCCC, C. Benson, M. Hill, and J. Mendon relax after Ms. Kase's presentation on the People's Republic of China. 4. Scottish bagpipers entertain during library week.

Foreign students share ideas

Participation in the Open Door Exchange program began during the 1975-76 school year. During the past four years students have learned much about the cultures and ways of life of people from South, Central, and Latin America. The exchange program is coordinated through the Foreign Language department.

Journalism students Install Quill and Scroll

A chapter of Quill and Scroll, an International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was installed by student journalists who make up the staffs of the Bronco Round-Up Newspaper and Bronco Yearbook. Marilyn Landers, journalism instructor, was instrumental in getting the chapter started.

To be eligible for the society students had to be of junior or senior class standing, have an overall "C" academic average, and have a "B" average in English. The chapter has 27 charter members. Mrs. Landers designated 15 sophomores to be associate members until they have met all requirements for membership.

The highlights of the formal installation Jan. 10 were the presentation of the charter to the school and the bestowing of Honorary Memberships to Mrs. Margaret Dunmire, Spring Hill State Bank and Tim Janicke, Olathe Daily News.

Yearbook staff captures student moods

Beginning with total re-organization, plans for the '79 Bronco yearbook began in the spring of '78. Marilyn Landers took over as adviser and the yearbook production became a journalism class meeting one hour of each day. Attending two workshops sponsored by Inter-Collegiate Press helped staff members learn about yearbook planning.

Led by Tammy Jackson, editor, the staff expanded the book from 120 to 168 pages, doubled the number of subscriptions sold, and raised funds for a budget twice the amount it had ever been.

Madrigal Singers fill pathway with music

"Where are you singing today?" was the question frequently heard when a Madrigal Singer passed by. Over 50 performances, League and State Contests, "Highlights of Broadway," and District Festivals kept the 20 select men and women of the Madrigals on a busy, but very musical, path through the year. The Madrigals, under Audrey Mohn's direction, changed their annual "Highlights of Broadway" to the fall season and in May added a Cabaret Concert featuring all types of music in a cabaret setting. 1. Madrigal Singers are A. Foster,

Volleyball team is rebuilding

Coach Mary Langbehn felt her '78 volleyball season was one of "youth, inexperience, and rebuilding." With seven juniors, no seniors, three sophomores, and only four lettermen returning from the past season, the squads lost to older, experienced teams. The varsity ended the season with a 1-15 record. Four freshmen formed the foundation of the JV team which closed the season with no wins and six losses.

Bronco team captures Sub-state runner-up

"It was frustrating season for me and for my players," said Coach Steve Fleer at the end of regular season play. His team posted a 7-12 record. The Broncos went on to defeat Council Grove and Baldwin in the Sub-State Tournament, losing in the championship game to Louisburg by two points, 51-49, in an overtime. With the death of starter Mike Howell in early fall, four lettermen remained to form the nucleus of the team. Jim Page, Alan Foster, Vernon Scrivner, and Steve Hickman were given the added help of transfer students Dan

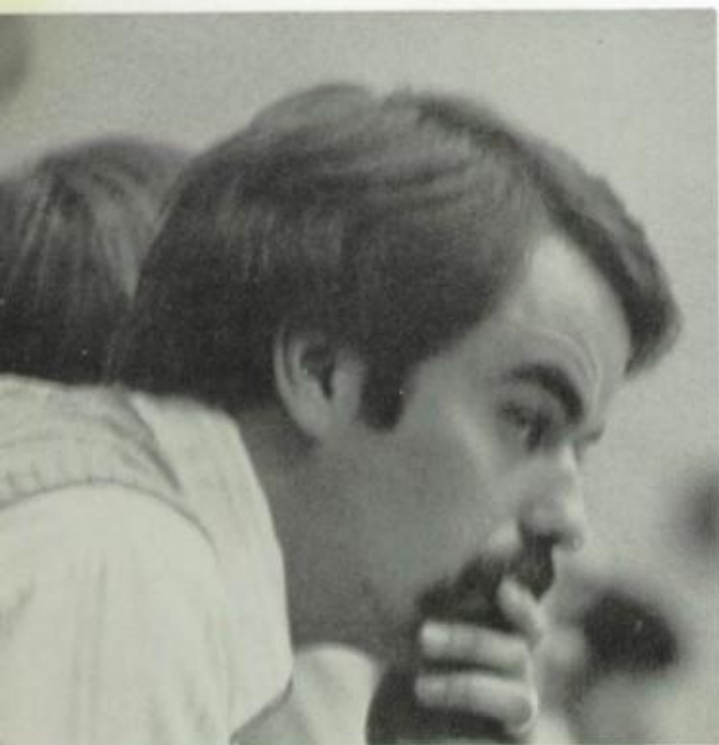

Hodge, Duane Hodge, Tony Williams, and Bob Hanson.

Of the squad, five seniors will be lost to graduation. Jim Page led the team in rebounding with 194 and also led in scoring with 305 points.

JV builds for next year

Posting a 12-4 record was a pleasant experience for Coach Max Brockus and his Junior Varsity Broncos. Strong contributions from the juniors on the team was a key for the successful season and an insight into next year's varsity team. Seeing regular action for the JV were Steve Jensen and Ted Sellers and transfer students Duane Hodge and Tony Williams. Hodge and Jensen led the team's scoring.

Experience brings victories to varsity girls

Under the guidance of a new coach, Jim Jensen, and one senior on their team, the Bronco girls set out to improve on the previous year's record. Hard work and added dedication by some of the younger players brought the team six wins.

They had 12 losses. Rebuilding is always a long, and sometimes frustrating, process, but the girls felt the wins were an indication that the team was improving and will continue to improve next year.

JV girls end season at 5-9

The Junior Varsity, coached by Jeff Anderson, relied heavily on the play of freshman team members. Diane Hodge, Carol Stiles, and Katie Melcher helped the team take five wins. Coach Anderson was able to draw strength from his bench when it was needed. Several of the JV girls were able to give added depth to the varsity team and were members of the DeSoto and Sub-State Tournament teams.

New coach guides wrestlers

The beginning of wrestling season had 24 boys reporting to new coach Ed Rawlings. Injuries, apathy, and eligibility problems plagued the team with only seven successfully completing the season. Squad members competed in invitational tournaments at Louisburg and Linwood, hosted the annual invitational at Spring Hill, and participated in eight regular season meets. At the end of the season the Board of Education voted to temporarily discontinue the wrestling program beginning with the '79-'80 school year.

Softball team Wins second

The softball team, coached by Mary Langbehn and Lois Tiffany, had difficulty finding the winning side of the scoreboard. The team closed the season with a 1-17 record. The JV squad was 0-7. The only victory for the varsity came in their own Invitational Tournament where they received second place.

The squad was composed of two seniors, seven juniors, seven sophomores, and six freshmen. The girls played in two teams of varsity and JV. With the majority of the team members being underclassmen, the experience gained this year will be a strong factor for next year's season.

Broncos take 14-2 record to State tourney

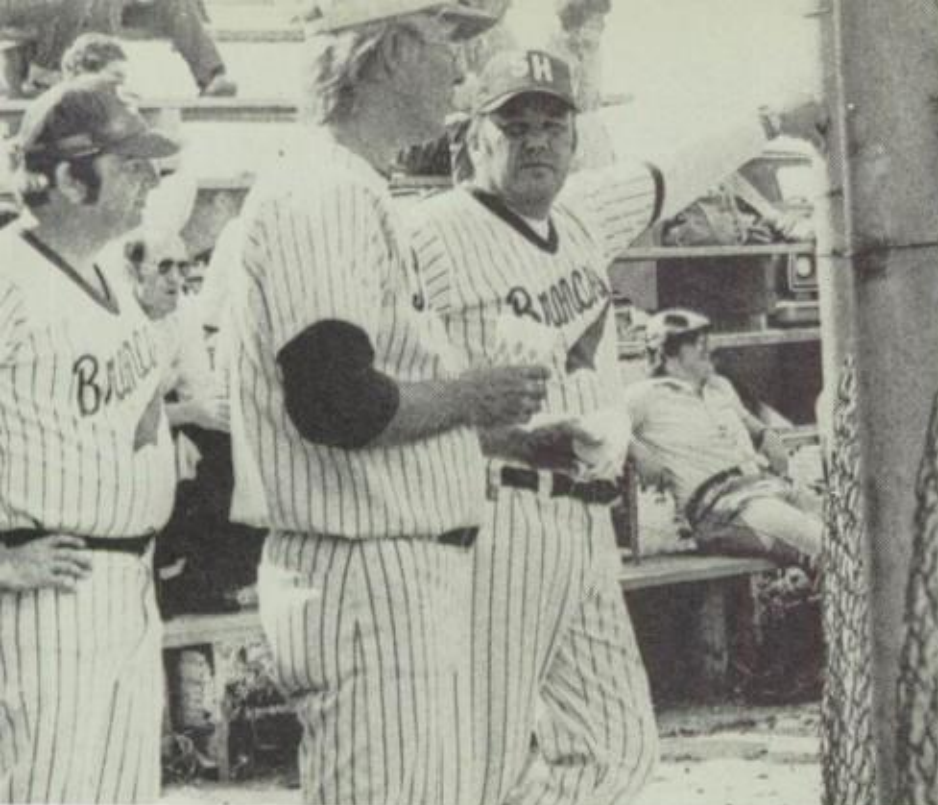

The Bronco baseball season ended on a disappointing note. After losing only twice in regular season play, the team lost to Silver Lake, 11-4, in the first round of State Tournament play at Emporia. Eleven players were returning lettermen from last season. Seven Broncos—Lloyd VanHoutan, Pat Hayes, Doug Lucas, Steve Hickman, David Londene, Marty Greene and Bob Hanson—will be lost to graduation. VanHoutan and Gerald Conn provided strong pitching for the Broncos and Jeff and Bob Hanson, new to the squad this year, added hitting strength. A season highlighted by outstanding defensive and offensive play ended with 14 wins and three losses.

Girls race down path

Jeff Anderson, in his first year as girls' track coach, commented, "I have been encouraged by the improvement of the girls. Although the number of girls out for track has been very small, they have been able to work well individually." Five girls, of the original 11 reporting for track, finished the season.

Placings were made by Patty Poore in the 880 run and by the 880 relay team of Poore, Diane Hodge, Sheryl Beers, and Katrina Roche. Jessica Dozier competed in the hurdles. 1. J. Dozier goes over the hurdles. 2. Team members with Coach J. Anderson are K. Roche, D. Hodge, S. Beers, J. Dozier. 3. Coach J. Anderson with boys' coach G. Miller. 4. S. JV prepares for the future

The members of the Junior Varsity cheerleading squad attended a training camp sponsored by the International Cheerleading Foundation at KU. At the end of the week-long session the squad was awarded third place in the Outstanding JV Squad evaluation. Pep assemblies, all JV games, and some wrestling meets demanded the girls' time. Practices were held regularly once a week. The JV cheerleaders also performed pom-pon routines with the varsity and freshman cheerleading squads. 1. Lori Hanson of the JV squad practices for a cheer. 2. Three of the four JV squad cheerleaders are captain Tami Koning, L. Zumbrunnen, and co-captain Jana Snell. 3. Cheering at a football game are J. In Memory

Mike Howell was a member of our class for seven years. In those years he brought joy, happiness, and laughter to all who knew him. He was our friend and, although he is gone, the memories he brought to each and every one of our lives can never be taken away. In memory of Mike, for all he gave to us, we dedicate the senior portion of this yearbook.

Seniors provide steppingstones for others

The class of '79 was, for the most part, students who were very interested in school. Instead of getting early releases, the majority stayed in school, and stayed involved, for seven hours each day. Leadership was a byword with the class with the presidency of nearly every club filled by seniors.

Friendships are made by caring and experiencing sad, as well as joyful, times together. The senior class showed many times throughout the year that friendship was deep and true among its members.

As seniors reflect on the year in school there is no doubt that the most significant and heart-rending event, will be the memory of classmate Mike Howell's tragic death in a car accident. Mike's friends will recall the tears, the anguish, and the many questions about life that came with his death. They will recall with loneliness the feelings they had upon entering classes in which Mike would no longer be a part.

But in spite of that experience, the seniors found they could go on living; they could even laugh. What at one time seemed like the impossible, turned into a successful, satisfying, and fun-filled year. The class was able to do their part in winning the Mike Howell Spirit Trophy and could even complain about the "official" sneak day being taken away.

Experience life and Live for experience

Twelve years spent together as classmates came to an end May 20 for 83 graduating seniors. Awards, scholarships, and the granting of diplomas highlighted the commencement program.

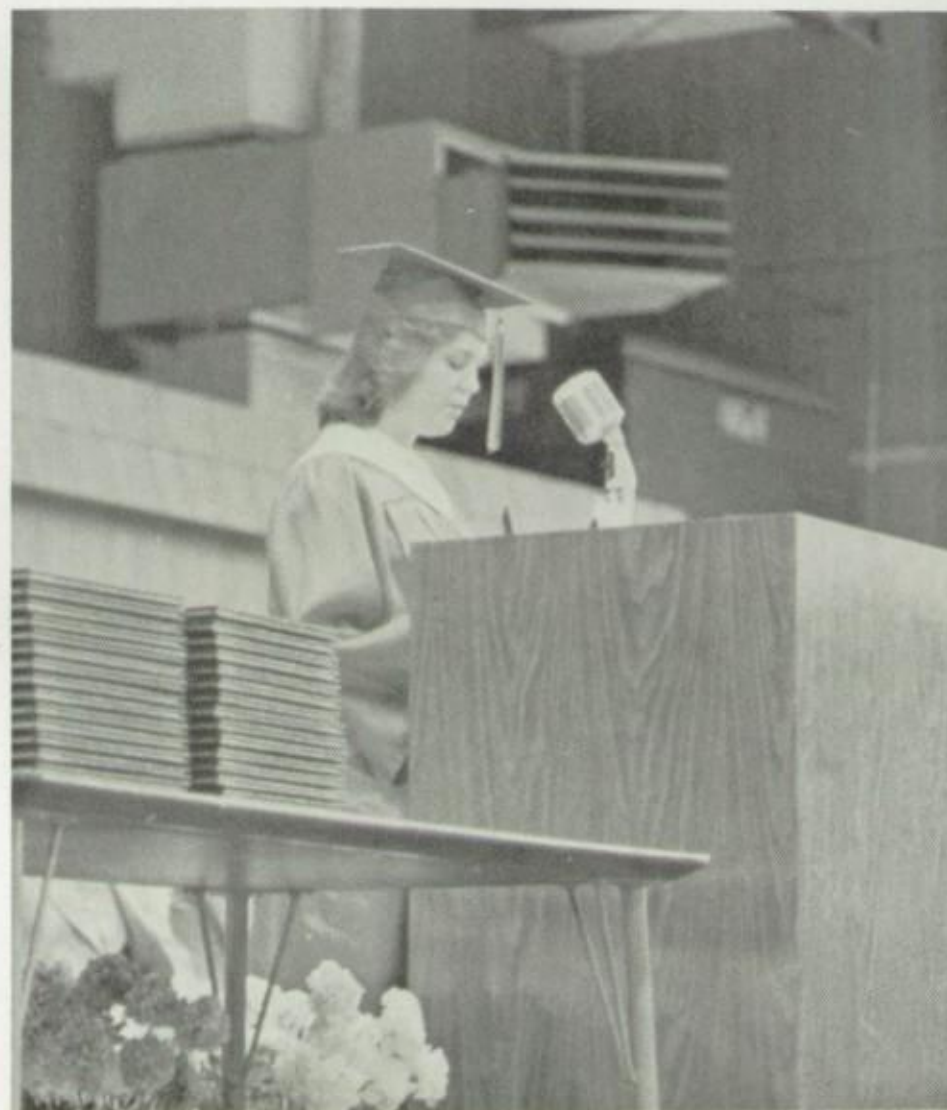

As the ceremony ended and the class gathered in the cafeteria, a few tears were shed and warm embraces were shared by friends and families. The class of '79 had taken one more step along life's path. Michelle Arnold led the class as valedictorian and Stephanie Slyter was salutatorian. Tammy Jackson was the recipient of the Outstanding Senior Award.

Freshmen embark on high school careers

With "Dream a dream of a new tomorrow" as their motto, the members of the freshman class embarked on their walk through their high school careers. As they entered the halls of the high school to begin their first year, they found many changes from Middle School life and encountered new faces.

There were many new people with whom they could be friends. Led by Bill Whitesell as their president, the freshmen realized that with the high school life came new responsibilities.

Tracy,
I don't know how to start this out but here it goes, we've had our ups & downs together but yet we can cope with the situation. I know you listen always will be. I know problems, but to alot of my down & shut up about at least I don't know how happy that makes me. This is your last year and I wish the best for you. Learn one thing for me, to be able to keep up with me, while partying, & another, don't let certain people or ditchers ruin our friendship or I'll least be one of your friends & I'll least you but for getting involved with them. Stay high & well have a stable Love - n - stable
Kimmy Kay

Tracy,
To a nice looking chick,
hope to party a little this year. Have a good year and hope ya graduate.
